Davis v. Monroe County Board of Education

526 U.S. 629 (1999)

- Ruling: For student-on-student sexual harassment, the educational institution will be liable for damages when:
 - The institution has “actual notice” of the harassment; and
 - The institution responded to the harassment with “deliberate indifference.”
 - Harassment must be “severe, pervasive, and objectively offensive,” and the institution’s indifference was “systemic” so that the victim is deprived of educational opportunities or services.
 - Deliberate indifference defined as a response that is “clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances.”
- The New Regulations apply the Davis standard for OCR compliance reviews and for finding institutional liability

Response to Sexual Harassment

According to 34 CFR §106.44(a): A recipient with actual knowledge of sexual harassment in an education program or activity of the recipient against a person in the United States must respond promptly in a manner that is not deliberately indifferent (e.g.; clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances.)

Actual Knowledge

- Actual knowledge for K-12 Educational Institutions occurs when any employee has notice of sexual harassment or allegations of sexual harassment.
- Best practice to provide annual training to K-12 employees about reporting responsibilities to the Title IX Coordinator or other designated Title IX Team Member.

Education Program or Activity

- Per § 106.44(a): An education program or activity includes locations, events, or circumstances over which the recipient exercised substantial control over both the Respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurs....
- At time of filing the formal complaint, the Complainant must be participating or attempting to participate in recipient's education program or activity.

Sexual Harassment Defined

According to § 106.30, Sexual Harassment means conduct on the basis of sex under one or more of following:

- Employee conditions the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the recipient on the Complainant's participation in unwelcome sexual conduct

2. Hostile Environment Sexual Harassment

- Unwelcome conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive and objectively offensive that it effectively denies Complainant equal access to the recipient's education program or activity

– Nonforcible:

- Offenses that do not involve force where the Complainant is incapable of giving consent, including statutory rape and incest

INTAKE PROCESS FOR REPORTS OF SEXUAL HARASSMENT

- Informs Complainant of the right to file or not to file a formal complaint and the right to supportive measures even if a formal complaint is not filed
- If no formal complaint filed, Title IX Coordinator informs Complainant of right to file a formal complaint at a later time. The Title IX Coordinator also assesses, despite Complainant's decision, whether to independently initiate a complaint if the failure to initiate an investigation would be clearly unreasonable considering the circumstances (e.g., based on a safety threat)

Meeting with Complainant

The Title IX Coordinator:

- If a formal complaint is filed, Title IX Coordinator gathers the signature of Complainant, parent/guardian and/or Title IX Coordinator
- Informs Complainant of right to request an informal resolution process after submission of a formal complaint and the right to exit informal resolution process at any time

 - An advisor may be a parent, family member, attorney, or other person
 - The advisor may be present with the person they are advising for any meeting, interview, or hearing and for the inspection and review the evidence obtained as part of the investigation
 - The advisor may assist with a written cross-examination process and shall ask the cross-examination questions if recipient opts for a live hearing process
 - If a party does not have an advisor to conduct cross-examination at a live hearing, the institution must provide one to the party
 - The institution may establish restrictions on the extent of an advisor’s participation, if restrictions apply equally to both parties

Emergency Removal Option for Students

1. Institution may remove Respondent per §106.44(c) by undertaking an individualized safety & risk analysis re Respondent:
 - The analysis determines if there is an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual arising from the allegations to justify removal
2. Notice to Respondent of Emergency Removal and opportunity for to challenge decision immediately following the removal
3. Process cannot modify Respondent rights under IDEA, Section 504, or ADA

- Decision-maker must be trained to rule on relevance of questions and repetitive questions
- Must understand the “preponderance of the evidence” or “clear and convincing evidence” standard
- Reminder: The Title IX Coordinator or investigator cannot determine responsibility

2. Written Decision

- The written decision must include the findings of fact, conclusion, and the rationale.

- The written decision is provided to the parties and their advisors (if any) simultaneously

Appeals

1. Equal Opportunity for Appeal under §106.45(b)(8)

- Both parties must have opportunity to appeal
 - the determination of responsibility, or
 - the dismissal of a formal complaint or allegations

2. Bases for Appeal

- Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;
- New evidence that was not reasonably available & could have affected outcome; or
- Conflict of interest or bias generally or specifically against the complainant or respondent by Title IX Coordinator, investigator, and/or decision-maker that affected the outcome

Note: Institution may include other bases for appeal if both parties have equal right to use

– Each sexual harassment investigation, including:

- Determination regarding responsibility
- Audio or audiovisual recording or transcript, if any, for K-12
- Any disciplinary sanctions imposed on Respondent, if applicable
- Any remedies provided to Complainant, if applicable

Recordkeeping

2. A recipient must maintain records for 7 years, including records of:

- Any appeal and the result of the appeal
- Any informal resolution and the result of the informal process
- All materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, appeal officers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process
 - These training materials must be publicly available on the institution's website
 - If no website, training materials must be available upon request for inspection by the public

Recordkeeping

- 3. For each response required under §106.44, a recipient must create and maintain records for 7 years, including records of:
- Any actions, including supportive measures, taken in response to a report or formal complaint of sexual harassment.
 - If the recipient did not provide supportive measures, it must document why that decision was not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances
 - In each instance, recipient must document
 - Why its response was not deliberately indifferent
 - The measures taken which were designed to restore or preserve equal access to the education program or activity

RETALIATION

Retaliation

1. Section 106.71(a) – Retaliation Prohibited

- No recipient or other person may intimidate, threaten, coerce, or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by Title IX or because the individual has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, or participated or refused to participate in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing.

2. Avoiding the Title IX Process May Be Retaliation

- If the alleged behavior falls under Section 106.30 definitions, a recipient cannot use the student conduct process as a way to avoid the rigorous Title IX grievance procedures; such a decision may constitute retaliation.

3. Retaliation Complaints Filed Under Same Process

- Retaliation complaints may be filed under the Section 106.8 grievance process.

Retaliation, Continued

4. Confidentiality Required by Recipient

- Recipient must keep identity of Complainant, Respondent, and witness(es) confidential unless required by law “or as necessary to carry out Title IX proceeding”
- Regulations imply that the improper release of this confidential information could be retaliation

5. First Amendment Rights

- Parties exercising their 1st Amendment rights does not constitute retaliation under Section 106.71(a)

6. False Statement Charge

- Recipient charging an individual with making a false statement in bad faith during Title IX process is not retaliation
- A responsibility determination (or no responsibility determination) is not sufficient evidence to conclude there was a bad faith false statement

PRACTICAL APPLICATION

Hypotheticals 1-3

- 1. Student A offers Student B all of the cookies made during the cooking class if Student B kisses Student A.
 - Is this sexual harassment under Title IX?
- 2. Teacher A offers Student B extra credit if the student buys the teacher groceries
 - Is this sexual harassment under Title IX?
- 3. An instructional aide recommends Student B wear tight clothes to school because it will “help with the student’s future opportunities”
 - Is this sexual harassment under Title IX?

Hypothetical 1 - Discussion

1. Student A offers Student B all of the cookies made during the cooking class if Student B kisses Student A.

– Is this sexual harassment under Title IX?

- Not Quid Pro Quo. This will not qualify as “quid pro quo” harassment under Title IX because the condition must be offered by an employee.
- However, this may be evidence of hostile environment sexual harassment under Title IX and warrants more questions to determine if there was additional sex-based behavior from Student A towards Student B.
- Even if this action does not rise to the level of Title IX’s definition of sexual harassment, this action may be a violation of the institution’s Board Policy/Administrative Regulations prohibiting sexual harassment under California law.
 - Thus, consider notifying the parties of all potential policy violations implicated by the complaint in the Notice of Allegations.
- PRACTICE TIP: The administrator fielding the allegation must ask questions to understand the full context of the matter.

Hypothetical 2 - Discussion

2. Teacher A offers Student B extra credit if the student buys the teacher groceries

– Is this sexual harassment under Title IX?

- No. Under these facts alone, this is not enough to demonstrate “quid pro quo” sexual harassment because this alleged behavior is not “on the basis of sex.”
- Similarly, this behavior, by itself, is not enough to demonstrate a hostile environment because it is not based on sex nor is it conduct of a sexual nature.
- The teacher’s behavior may be addressed as unprofessional and/or inappropriate conduct based on the Board Policy regarding Professional Standards or the Code of Ethics
- PRACTICE TIP: The administrator fielding this allegation must ask questions to understand the full context of the matter.

Hypothetical 3 - Discussion

3. An instructional aide recommends Student B wear tight clothes to school because it will “help with the student’s future opportunities”

– Is this sexual harassment under Title IX?

- This is likely an example of “quid pro quo” harassment. The conditioning behavior need not be explicit. The conditioning behavior can be implied.
- May be unprofessional or inappropriate conduct under Professional Standards Policy or Code of Ethics
- Query: Must the evidence demonstrate the conditioning behavior is “unwelcome” to the Complainant?
 - The Title IX definition describes an employee who “conditions” the provision of an aid, benefit, or service of the recipient on an individual’s participation in the unwelcome sexual conduct. Prior legal analysis of “quid pro quo” indicates that “going along” with the condition does not necessarily mean it was welcome. Analyze on a case-by-case basis.

Hypotheticals 4-5

- 4. Student A enters your office and tells you that Student B touched Student A's buttocks, which made Student A uncomfortable.
 - What do you need to know?
 - What should you do?

- 5. Student A enters your office and tells you that a Teacher touched Student A's buttocks in the classroom and made a kissing sound, which scared Student A.
 - What do you need to know?
 - What should you do?

Hypothetical 4 - Discussion

- Student A enters your office and tells you that Student B touched Student A's buttocks, which made Student A uncomfortable.
 - What do you need to know?
 - Where did it happen? Is it on campus or in a location where recipient exercised substantial control over Student B/Respondent and the context in which the sexual harassment occurred?
 - Was the conduct based on sex? What's the nature of the touch?
 - Was the conduct against Student A's will?
 - What should you do?
 - Contact Title IX Coordinator as this may be sexual harassment or other sexual acts under Title IX
 - Likely contact parents
 - Explain Title IX complaint process and how to file a formal complaint
 - Offer Supportive Measures with or without a formal complaint
 - If formal complaint filed, begin the complaint process

Hypothetical 5 - Discussion

5. Student A enters your office and tells you that a Teacher touched Student A's buttocks in the classroom and made a kissing sound, which scared Student A.

– What do you need to know?

- Gather additional information as soon as possible about whether the teacher's actions were based on sex or of a sexual nature and how it made the student feel

– What should you do?

- Contact Title IX Coordinator as may be sexual harassment or other sexual acts under Title IX
- Contact parents
- Consider filing CPS/CWS report or contact local law enforcement
- Consider Paid Administrative Leave
- Title IX initiates intake meeting, an investigation, and complaint process, but ok to delay a reasonable time if law enforcement has to gather any evidence
